

Transcript - Auto Insurance - ENGLISH

Wondering why your car insurance premiums are going up?

When you buy insurance, you pay into a fund to protect yourself from the unexpected.

However, payouts are becoming higher and more frequent.

This is because the costs of fixing today's more technically advanced cars are increasing, vehicle thefts are on the rise and costs associated with injuries continue to escalate.

The good news... understanding how certain factors affect your premiums can help you save money. For example, you benefit from lower premiums if you

- Bundle your home and car insurance to save.
- Take advantage of applicable preferred rates available for alumni, professional and employer groups.
- Continue to drive safe and maintain a claims-free status.

Keep in mind, with TD Insurance, you also get valuable extras, such as the ability to track your claim from start to finish.

You may also have the choice to visit a TD Auto Centre where you can get claims advice, have your car repaired and get a rental, all in one place.

For additional saving tips, learn more below.